Step 1: Imagine Your New Normal

As you start down the road to divorce, you may need some inspiration along the way. Document your post-divorce goals and refer to them when the divorce process becomes challenging.

Ideal Future for Yourself - Personally and Professionally:
Ideal Futures for Your Children:

Step 2: Gather

Share these documents with your attorney and financial advisor and ask them to work together on your behalf.

	Before You Start the Process - Make sure you have a source of liquid funds for attorney fees and your support.
	Locate Your Marriage License
	Review Your Credit Report
	Open a Credit Card in Your Name, If You Don't Already Have One
	Personal Information for Each Family Member
	Birth Certificates
	Social Security Numbers
	Judgments and Pleadings Involving Either Spouse
	Important Documents
	Prenuptial/Postnuptial Agreement
	Bank Statements – Checking, Savings, Money Market, and CDs
	Brokerage/Investment Statements/Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs)
	Retirement Plan Statements/Documents – 401(k), 403(b), 457, Pension Plans, etc.
	IRA Statements
	Annuity Statements
	Real Estate Titles for Residences, Investments, and Timeshares
	Stock Option Statement/Restricted Stock/Stock Grants
	Deferred Compensation – Corporate Bonus Plans, Incentive Comp. or Others
	Employment Agreement
	Pay Stubs
	Social Security Statement for You and Your Spouse (ssa.gov)
	Loan Documents
	Credit Card Statements
	Credit/Loan/Bank Applications
	Loans to Family Members/Friends
	Business Interests Including Sole Proprietorship, Partnership, Limited Liability Company (LLC), and Limited Liability Partnership (LLP)
	Insurance Policies – Term, Universal and Whole Life
	Income Tax Returns – Three to Five Years of Personal and Business
,	Wills/Trusts/Powers of Attorney

Step 3: Quantify

Create a marital balance sheet to value and divide your assets and debts. Be sure to identify any assets or debts accumulated prior to marriage.
